THE MONSTER

A man returned home earlier than usual.

His son met him very upset and crying.

Daddy, there is a monster in your bedroom.

There's what?

A monster. And he is hidden in mummy's wardrobe.

So the man went upstairs, found his wife in bed and opened the wardrobe door.

Inside his oldest friend tried, vainly, to hide himself behind a rack of dress.

Twenty years you have been my friend, bellowed the husband, pulling his former friend out by the hair. And the best thing you can find to do is frighten my little boy.
